

Name and Surname	Giovanna Avellis
Country of residence	Italy
Discipline	Computer Science
Member from	2009
Email	avellisgianna@gmail.com

Biography (up to 250 words maximum)

Giovanna Avellis is President of ITWIIN (Italian Women Innovators and Inventors Network) www.itwiin.org, which she co-founded and Secretary General of MCFA (Marie Curie Fellows Association) www.mcfa.eu, where she founded a Working Group on Gender Equality m-WiSET (mobile Women in Science Engineering and Technology). She is also currently member of MCAA (Marie Curie Alumni Association) www.mariecuriealumni.eu, where she founded a GEMS WG (Gender Equality and Diversity for Mobile Researchers' in Science), which she chaired last three years and currently is the Treasurer. She is director of ICORSA (International Consortium of Research Staff Associations) www.icorsa.org.

Giovanna Avellis is a senior researcher in ICT, Consulting and Technical Assistance, Innovapuglia SPA, Valenzano, Bari, Italy. She has been involved as project manager in a number of European projects in Software Engineering, Multimedia projects, and Mobile Telecommunications. Currently, she plays the role of evaluator and monitor of research projects of SMEs with Universities and research centres for Apulia region. She served the EU Commission as independent expert evaluator of European project in Software&Services. Her current research interests are in mobile software engineering. Degree in Computer Science, 30 years in industrial research and 2 in academic research at Imperial College, London funded by a Marie Curie fellowship. She published more than 80 papers in conferences and journals in Combinatorics, Software Engineering, Multimedia Systems, and Mobile e-learning.

